

Boiled Earth In Atom Bomb Crater Still Emits X-Rays

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) Alamogordo, N. M., Sept. 12 (AP)—Secret details of Japanese scientific investigations released here today refute enemy radio reports that the atomic bomb area of Hiroshima had become unfit for human habitation.

Disclosed by Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, head of the atomic bomb project, these reports declared that 11 days after the bomb fell Hiroshima apparently was safe from dangerous rays. The reports said that at any point beneath the impact of the explosion there was less than a tolerance dose of X-rays coming from ground or air.

This amount means, General Groves said, that it is safe for anyone to live in that area permanently without risk.

Visit U. S. Crater

The general issued the Japanese reports in connection with a visit to the site of the first atomic bomb explosion, about 60 miles north of here. He led a party of 31 writers and photographers, five scientists and a dozen army officers into the bomb crater last Sunday afternoon.

This was the first public revelation of the amazing details of the atomic damage to the ground itself. The things seen there and the story of X-rays told by instruments carried into the crater showed definitely why Hiroshima and Nagasaki are not ruined for human habitation. They showed too why it is improbable that more than a comparatively few persons were injured by atomic rays of any sort, except at the instant of the flash.

This New Mexico bomb was nearly as big and, for ray-making, just as terrific as the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombs. It was exploded only 100 feet from the ground, where it melted the top soil for a quarter mile all around and by transmutation filled this thin layer with X-rays and other less dangerous forms of atomic rays.

Spared Jap Lives

Both Japanese bombs deliberately were exploded at much greater heights. One purpose was to spare the Japanese from blasts which would poison the earth with radioactive rays and subject the sites for some weeks to dangers beyond the military destruction sought.

When Groves led the party into the New Mexico crater last Sunday afternoon, the boiled earth there still was emitting X-rays. But by that time, less than two months after the explosion, these rays had died down so much that half an hour's stay was safe.

The crater, a saucer nearly half a mile wide, was an almost unbroken expanse of jade and turquoise colored glass, formed by the intense heat that melted the earth. At the center of the crater was a bowl, 300 feet across, a little deeper than the rest of the depression. There most of the glass had been blown out by some sort of back-draft.

Earth Forced Down

Equally amazing was the form of the crater. This depression had not been made by digging out the soil. Instead the solid earth had been forced down, as if pressed by a gigantic mold.

The mold was the pressure generated in the bomb. The amount of this pressure is a secret, except for an approximate figure given in the official British report of the atomic bomb. The British said the pressure was millions of times greater than one atmosphere, which is 14 1/2 pounds a square inch at sea level.

The heat which boiled the earth is also a secret. But again the British report gives an idea, saying it was millions of degrees.

Price Of Gas Drops Sept. 17

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Consumers in the eastern seaboard area (which includes Adams county), will begin paying less for gasoline and fuel oil Sept. 17.

The OPA today fixed this date for reductions at retail. Reductions at refinery and wholesale ceilings went into effect Sept. 1. Retail gasoline ceilings will be reduced 12 cents in the 17 eastern seaboard states and the District of Columbia.

Retail ceilings for kerosene, prime white distillate, No. 1 fuel oil, No. 2 fuel oil and range oil will be lowered 1 1/2 cents a gallon.

The reductions in general wipe out increases in ceilings granted during the war to help defray the extra transportation costs to the eastern seaboard resulting from the abandonment of normal tanker operations.

ALTON D. WHITE IS ELECTED TO FAIRFIELD POST

Vacancies in two school districts in the county have been filled while a teacher's resignation in a third leaves a new position open, the county superintendent's office reported this morning.

The Fairfield board of school directors at a special meeting Tuesday evening elected Alton D. White, a former teacher in the Middletown and Lewistown high schools, as the new supervising principal at Fairfield at a salary of $2,200. He will succeed Dr. Anson Hamm on Monday. Doctor Hamm resigned to take a position at Warriors' Mark in Huntingdon county.

Mr. White comes to this county from Skaneateles, N. Y. He is a graduate of the Towanda, Pa., high school and Pennsylvania State college in the class of 1926. For 16 years after graduation he taught biology and chemistry in Middletown high school and last year taught vocational classes at Lewistown. In the period between Middletown and Lewistown he was employed by General Electric in engineering work.

"Too Foggy," So She Quits He received his master's degree from Western Reserve university at Cleveland. He will teach science in the Fairfield high school in addition to his duties as supervising principal.

Mrs. Isabelle Ross Hoffman, 33 East Lincoln avenue, has resigned as teacher at the Liberty Hall school in Liberty township, effective on next Monday. The only reason given the school board for her action was that it has been "too foggy" these mornings to drive to her school in the Fairfield section.

The Liberty township board expects to find a successor to take over the school next Monday. There are about 30 pupils in the school which serves the territory once covered by Oak Grove school which is now closed.

Greenstone school in Hamilton-ban township, which could not open this month for lack of a teacher, will open Monday with Mrs. Laura D. Higgins, Fountaineau, as the temporary teacher. She will continue until a regular teacher can take over. Mrs. Higgins is now on leave of absence from another school in the same township.

WELFARE GROUP MAY REORGANIZE

A committee to make a study of the functions and purposes of the present Adams County Welfare committee for the purpose of determining whether the work should be dropped or continued on a broader scale after a re-organization was named at the September meeting of the welfare committee here on Monday evening.

The special committee, which is to be expanded, now includes Dr. Robert A. Bream, chairman; Dr. Dwight F. Putman, Mrs. A. Harrison Barr, Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, and Mrs. R. S. Saby.

As a part of its duties the special committee is to invite representatives of welfare, service and religious groups throughout the community to a meeting at which a decision will be sought on the future of a re-organized and broadened welfare organization in the county.

Paul A. Kinsey, president of the welfare group that has held periodic meetings for several years, presided at the discussion session Monday evening. Paul Benjamin, executive director of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania with which the county committee has been affiliated, attended the meeting.

The relationship of the reorganized group to the state organization also will have to be decided.

Pfc. Clarence Swinn Now In Philippines

Pfc. Clarence M. Swinn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Swinn, 31 East Lincoln avenue, has arrived safely in Luzon, the Philippines, to where he was transferred from the European Theater of Operations.

Swinn has received two battle stars for the crossing of the Rhine and the battle for Central Germany. While in Germany he was attached at various times to the First, Ninth and Fifteenth Armies, and the British Second Army. Enroute to the Pacific he passed through the Panama Canal, the trip requiring 40 days.

Prior to entering the service Swinn served as a radio technician in the research laboratory at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. After entering the armed forces he completed courses at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., as a radio operator, high speed sender and receiver. He now receives his mail Hq. Co., 67th Sig. Bn., APO 70, care of the postmaster, San Francisco, Cal.

Japanese Surrender Most Expansive Of Their Loot

By MARC PURDUE Singapore, Sept. 12 (AP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten received the surrender of all Japanese forces in southeast Asia and the East Indies today from Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, representing the ailing commander of the Japanese southern armies, Marshal Count Juichi Terauchi.

Promptly after the ceremony the Allied Southeast Asia Commander announced he would tolerate no arrogance from the Japanese, and told his troops in an order of the day that they would have his support "in taking the sternest measures against any Japanese attempt at obstinacy, impudence or non-cooperation."

The order of the day underscored Mountbatten's previous stern announcement that "we are going to treat our enemies with justice and humanity, but we are going to be their masters."

The surrender involved about 85,000 Japanese troops in the Singapore area and some 500,000 soldiers and sailors in "the southern regions"—southeast Asia and East Indies.

By the instrument the Japanese gave up the richest and most expansive conquests of their long campaign of aggression—an area stretching 6,500 miles from the Arabian sea to Hollandia, embracing 1,500,000 square miles and populated by 128,000,000 people.

Pennsylvanian Gives Blood Transfusion To Help Keep Tojo Alive

(By The Associated Press) Tokyo, Sept. 12 (AP)—American occupation authorities tonight pressed the roundup of 47 Japanese war leaders and renegade Occidentals as a gift of blood from a Pennsylvania sergeant probably saved the life of Hideki Tojo, principal architect of the Pearl Harbor assault.

General MacArthur, extending his list of "wanted" men to include seven of the notorious Black Dragon society's top terrorists, ordered dissolution of that jingoistic secret organization, which the Japanese claimed had disbanded more than a month ago.

While the roundup bag increased, one of the most badly wanted, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, who sanctioned the murderous "death march" of Bataan, fled to his islet home off the northwest coast.

One of those caught, however, was Heinrich Georg Stahmer, German ambassador held chiefly responsible for bringing Japan into the Rome-Berlin Axis.

Ribbentrop Assistant Stahmer came to Tokyo in 1940 as a special envoy on the Axis deal, was rewarded by being named Hitler's envoy to the Nanking puppet government, and then became ambassador to Tokyo. He was a personal assistant to Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop.

Tojo, who attempted suicide yesterday, admittedly to escape trial as the main Japanese war criminal, but who missed his heart with a bullet from a pistol taken from a downed American flier, rallied strongly tonight after the transfusion of B-type whole blood and injections of penicillin.

Doctors, who had said he had a better-than-ever chance to live, declared his condition now was "very satisfactory." Tojo himself was strong enough to thank them and to tell a Japanese government representative, T. Suzuki, who visited him at the American evacuation hospital in Yokohama, that he appreciated the care he was getting.

Given Best Possible Nursing Care The blood donation came from Sgt. John A. Archinal, a veteran of New Guinea and the Philippines, who said: "I'm doing this so he can get his just dues and suffer for the 17 months he made me spend in New Guinea."

General MacArthur's personal physician, Col. Roger Egeberg, South Euclid, Ohio, rushed to Tojo's bedside to join in the fight for his life. Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of Eighth Army occupation forces, said that the best possible nursing care had been ordered, adding, "we want the Japanese government to know that."

Eichelberger said Tojo shot himself with a U. S. Army Air Corps pilot's pistol. The number of the Colt automatic, 535330, was too high for pre-war issue, the general said. He reported that Tojo, asked where he obtained the gun, had replied "from the Japanese war department."

Did Not Want To Stand Trial "I believe the pistol was taken from an American aviator shot down during the war," Eichelberger concluded.

Tojo said he fired his hasty pistol shot yesterday as American War Crimes investigators pounded at his door because he "did not want to stand before the victor to be tried." Yet trial seemed certainly in store for him and many of his henchmen, including the Pearl Harbor cabinet.

Three of the 39 others that General MacArthur ordered detained had been taken into custody already. They were Jorge Vargas, puppet Philippines ambassador to Japan; Mark Lewis Streeter, an American who was captured at Wake Island and was accused of later making propaganda broadcasts for them from a prison camp; and Col. Josef Alfred Meisinger, police attache at the German embassy.

Vargas was taken in Tokyo along with his two sons. Streeter was found aboard the American hospital ship Marigold, where he had been sent with other liberated prisoners of war. Meisinger has been held for several days.

Japan A Fourth Rate Nation Three guards stood watch throughout last night at Tojo's bedside on the third floor of what once was an elementary school. They included Pfc. Tom Federbar, Fair Oaks, Pa.

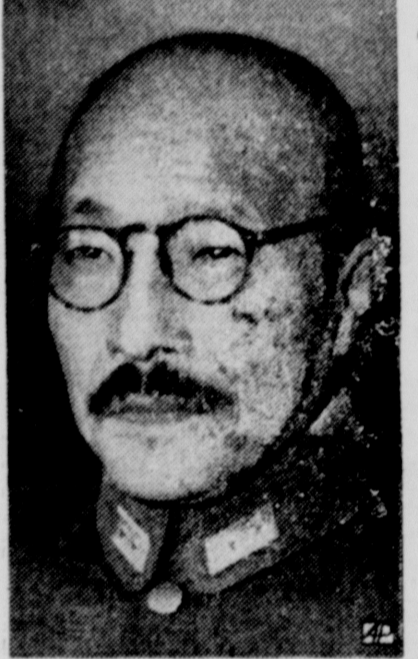

More than a patient, Tojo is detained officially on instructions of General MacArthur who pointed out in an interview that the stolen empire Tojo helped build already has been cut down to a fourth rate nation with little hope of ever again becoming a world power.

MacArthur, obviously pleased with the progress of the occupation, directed any skeptics to contrast the situation with that in Europe.

Emperor's Future Is Unknown The supreme commander of the Allied powers made these points:

1. In Europe, the only Axis leaders the people ever followed were of necessity placed in jails, if still alive; in Japan, Emperor Hirohito has obeyed every order issued under MacArthur's name since the occupation and has made

LAUNCH DRIVE ON BLACK MART IN 10 COUNTIES

A shoppers' drive to eliminate the black market in meat and other foods was started in the 10 counties of the Harrisburg District Monday with the distribution of "Anti-Inflation Shopping Lists." Walter C. Young, director of the Harrisburg district of OPA announced today.

"We opened our consumer campaign against the black market by furnishing meat price lists to shoppers, so that they could check the prices they paid for meat against the ceiling prices shown on the list," Mr. Young continued. "Now we're following up with a second list on which the housewife can write the prices she actually pays for meats and other foods over a period of a week."

Any consumer may call at headquarters of his local War Price and Ration board for a copy of the "Anti-Inflation Shopping List." Other copies will be distributed through the public schools by the board's community service panel, Mr. Young said.

To Report to Board

Each list contains spaces where the shopper can write the price she paid for every item of food purchased during one week, together with its brand, weight or size, and if possible, its ceiling price. At the bottom of the list, she places her store's name and address, its group number, and her own name and address. Then she takes or mails the list to the local board. Chimney Cleaning Urged By Marshal

Raymond Bisbing, fire marshal for the Gettysburg Fire Company, today appealed to all householders to have their chimneys cleaned and inspected, flues repaired if needed and other precautions taken to prevent chimney fires and other blazes during the forthcoming months.

"While Gettysburg does not have many serious fires we do have a number of chimney blazes each year, especially during the early fall months when furnaces are started for the winter season," said Mr. Bisbing.

"If householders will have their chimneys cleaned and defective flues repaired before they start their furnaces again this year it will be a great step in fire prevention and will save property damage."

TOJO'S ACTION PROOF JAPAN'S THEFT FAILED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One would search long and hard to find anything good about General Tojo, but we must give him credit for making a valuable contribution to the welfare of mankind when he shot himself yesterday in Tokyo.

Tojo was wheeled in militarily. He grew in strength until he became the mainspring of the mighty war-machine which tried to establish a greater East Asia under the rule of Japan. His was the hand which held the dagger that stabbed Uncle Sam in the back, for the general was premier when the sneak attack was made on Pearl Harbor.

Through the long years succeeding Pearl Harbor the Japanese people came to look upon Tojo as the arch militarist who would lead them to victory and make them overlords of their fellow men. Might was right. Militarism was the pass-word to imperial greatness, and Tojo symbolized militarism.

Had Feet of Clay
Now suddenly the public is stunned with the disclosure that its god had feet of clay. Tojo, the chief of all the militarists, shoots himself because he has failed, that is, because militarism has failed. Many Japanese will nod with approval and say that this was the only honorable thing the general could do; this was the only way he could atone for dishonoring his Mikado. But whatever construction you put on it, the fact remains that the people of Japan are for the first time seeing militarism in its true colors.

We may expect, I believe, that Tojo's action—and similar events which are emphasizing the evils and futility of militarism—will be of invaluable assistance to the Allies in remoulding the character of the Japanese people. For that is our task, and it must be done by enlightenment.

Apologies of this vast educational job, we have an interesting comment from Kichisaburo Kurosawa, the Japanese diplomat who talked peace in Washington as the imperial fleet struck at Pearl Harbor. America naturally has a very low estimate of Kurosawa, but even the devil himself may make wise remarks at times, and so we find food for reflection in the diplomat's statement:

"I cannot see Japan exactly like the United States overnight. The people are not ready, they have been so long under militaristic government. Changes must be gradual or the world will find a Japan in a grip as bad as that of the military clique that precipitated the war."

Wherever the truth may lie in this matter the bullet which Tojo sent through his body will act as a tracer of light to help the people of Japan see the truth about aggression. Democracy may move fast in the Mikado's domains, once it gets under full way.

102,000 IDLE BY STRIKES IN MANY DISTRICTS

(By The Associated Press)

Post-war labor disputes continued to keep an army of workers—more than 102,000—away from their jobs in dozens of cities today as union, management and government officials acted to bring amity along the nation's labor front.

The increasing number of work stoppages slowed or curtailed production in scores of industries and also hit a varied line of businesses. Some of the disputes dated back to before the war's end, but of the 58 on the strike list, the majority have broken out since the end of the war.

Detroit topped the country in numbers of workers idled by strikes and walkouts, with some 26,000, approximately one-fourth of the national total. Chicago led in disputes with 11, but none affected any large group of workers. About 2,300 were idled as a result of the stoppages in the nation's second largest city.

White Collar Strike
The strike of 12,000 "white collar" workers of Westinghouse Electric Corp. in nine cities in six eastern states was "on again" today after it was believed ended yesterday. As the strike renewed yesterday after being called off at the request of the War Labor Board, it threatened to idle an additional 80,000 Westinghouse workers.

Officers of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent, salaried unions, who asked President Truman to intervene, were to meet with the WLB in Washington to discuss the situation. The federation said it wanted a definite commitment from the WLB on the strikers' wage case. The walkout was called to enforce the union's demand for a bonus or incentive pay system, which was termed unjustified by a company spokesman.

One of the newest walkouts involved 1,500 meat packing workers in Indianapolis who left their jobs at Kingan and company pending outcome of negotiations between the company and United Packinghouse Workers of America over discharge of three employees.

FRANCE MAKES DEMANDS FOR ITALIAN PACT

London, Sept. 12 (AP)—France presented to the conference of foreign ministers of the world's five big powers today her views on a proposed peace treaty for Italy, insisting at least on the principle of reparations.

Outlines of American and British views indicate both governments have opposed collection of reparations from Italy because they were eager to get the Italian economy back on a sound basis.

The French views it was learned, were these:

1. France wants a small rectification of her border with Italy, mainly on the Alpine frontier around the towns of Labrique and Tante and would like complete control over the Roya valley, on the frontier just north of the Mediterranean.

2. France disclaims any desire to annex the Valley of Aosta in Northern Italy, but wants guarantees either in the treaty or by joint international pledge that the French population in the area will be given home rule by Rome.

Free Port at Trieste
3. The French are inclined to side with the British and Americans on Trieste—to leave the city in Italian hands, but establish an international authority to assure Austria, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia free use of the port.

4. The French are prepared to accept the British and American plan to place the bulk of the Italian colonies under Italian trusteeship. This would remove Rome's sovereignty, but retain Rome's rule. The French view is that Italy must have an outlet for emigrants.

5. The French demand all of the East African area known as Fezzan. It is a strategic link between Lake Chad and North Africa which belonged half to France and half to Italy before 1935. At that time it was turned over to Italy. French diplomats say, by Pierre Laval.

6. The French desire border rectifications on Tunisia's inland frontiers with Italian colonies, seeking certain oases which are important on the desert routes.

Wants Goods Restored
7. France wants restitution for goods stolen by the Italians during the war, such as locomotives and machine tools.

8. France is insistent on at least the principle of Italian reparations. The French say they are not seeking any large sum for the general war damage but that they are anxious to get a small sum as a matter of principle.

It appeared likely that France would be satisfied on most of her territorial demands, although there probably will be some debate over Eastern Libya and Italian Eritrea, which the British are reluctant to turn back to Italian control.

The British wish to give part of Libya to Egypt and Eritrea to Ethiopia and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The big question mark on the Italian treaty is Russia. So far there has been no indication that the Soviet has any particular demands on Italy, although Moscow is expected to support Yugoslavia's claim on Trieste at least as a bargaining lever to pry out compromises on other points, especially in the Balkans.

Restrictions On Travel Off Oct 1

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Conventions, group meetings and trade shows go off the restricted list October 1.

The office of defense transportation banned such gatherings last February 1 to reduce travel and ease hotel crowding. Since then it had loosened the rules to permit state meetings of any size and out-of-state attendance up to 150. The new order announced yesterday lifts all restrictions.

ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson asked, however, that the public still stifle that urge to travel until after peak troop movements have been accomplished early next year.

He suggested that in the meanwhile big gatherings be deferred when possible.

CONGRESS FIRES QUESTIONS AT SERVICE HEADS

By MAX HALL

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Congress worked itself up into a questioning mood today.

Its curiosity was terrific. The Army and Navy were more on the defensive than at any time since D-day and Guadalcanal.

Congress asked questions about many things, some military, some not. For example, the law-makers wanted to know about:

1. Army-Navy discharges.
2. Pearl Harbor.
3. Un-American activities.
4. UNRRA.

Asking Questions

The Senate Military Committee summoned Army-Navy big shots today to ask why men can't be released faster. Congress hoped the folks back home would listen to the answers—and stop writing all those letters.

A congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack was all set. Both the Senate and House voted for it unanimously. That means more quizzing for Army-Navy big shots. Six Democrats and four Republicans will do the quizzing.

Un-American activities snapped back into the news when the House committee to investigate them held its first formal meeting under the new chairman, Rep. John S. Wood of Georgia.

This used to be the "Dies Committee." Wood said he expects the group to have more work than ever before. (But he said he's going to be mighty careful whom he labels "Un-American.")

"Laughing Stock"

Herbert H. Lehman, boss of UNRRA—the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration—came before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for stiff questioning.

Meantime a Republican from Pennsylvania, Rep. James Fulton, just back from Europe, took a poke at UNRRA. He said its activities are a "laughing stock" in Europe.

So much for quizzing. There also was debating.

The House considered a bill to end "war time" and turn America's clocks back an hour on September 30. There wasn't much argument about this. The bill is expected to sail breezily through the House, Senate and White House.

Tax Cuts Likely

The Senate continued its debate on the airport bill. The measure would put up federal money to go through-treat with states in a huge program of airport building. The House has a different version; hasn't debated it yet.

And there was tax news:

Those tax cuts that corporations and individuals are expecting January 1 became even more likely—in fact pretty certain—when the House committee on Ways and Means voted unanimously to get going soon on a quick tax bill.

There will be a tussle over the amount and method of the cuts. But if the tussle doesn't last too long, some sort of cuts can be expected.

Changes In Bill

As for the situation on unemployment:

The Truman-supported plan for bigger benefits to the unemployed was given a surgical operation by the Senate Finance Committee.

Here's what was removed: Federal cash to increase weekly payments made by state governments.

Here's what stayed in the bill: Federal cash to string out those payments to 26 weeks; also travel pay for jobless workers stranded away from home; also unemployment benefits for Federal employees and Maritime workers.

That isn't final. Congress will debate the measure and maybe shuffle it around again.

FEW MILITARY 'PORTS IN PA.

Harrisburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 10-year airport development program will get little help from the transition of present military air fields to peacetime uses, so far as state aeronautical authorities can see.

The Commonwealth now has 172 commercial, private fields and seaplane bases, but only a handful of fields that owe their existence primarily to army or navy flying—and most of these were in use long before World War II.

One exception was the McKean county airport, built near Bradford early in the war for emergency use in case of invasion. That field, with two paved 4,200-foot runways, already has been turned over to the city of Bradford, which is trying to attract airline service.

The army's Olmsted Field, opened during the first World War, is a permanent army installation. It is an adjunct of the Middletown Air Technical Service Command.

A permanent navy installation is Mustin Field, long in use at the Philadelphia navy yard.

The future of a number of other fields in the Philadelphia metropolitan area, that were built or modernized primarily to serve aircraft industries, is unsettled.

Of every 20 toothbrushes, 17 now are made of nylon bristles.

MOTHER FACES MURDER COUNT IN SON'S DEATH

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—

Mrs. Mary Climon Aniol, 28, who pleaded guilty when charged with the strangulation death of her five-year-old son yesterday, waited in Cambria county jail at Ebensburg today for action of the December grand jury.

Alderman Louis B. Saylor ordered her held without bail after a brief hearing last night. The charge was preferred by City Detective Charles Griffiths, who said Mrs. Aniol at her arraignment was still wearing the simple house dress she had on when she was arrested.

Detective Sgt. John W. Reed stated officers were called to the Aniol home, in a war housing project, by neighbors who said Mrs. Aniol had begged them "come and help or call police." The boy, John, was found dead in a bedroom of the home.

Rites on Thursday

Reed quoted the mother as saying, "when I went into his room and saw him lying on the bed, I don't know what came over me."

At the hearing, Mrs. Aniol was hardly coherent; she appeared stunned.

The boy's father, a steelworker, told police his wife was under a doctor's care for a time last year and was subject to moods of depression.

Dr. H. C. Anderson reported an autopsy showed the child could have died from one of three causes—strangulation, thumus or respiratory paralysis. Private funeral services for John will be held tomorrow.

The Aniol's have one other child, Mary Ann, 9.

Need Examiners For Pupil Examinations

Harrisburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—Extension of Pennsylvania's program of health examinations to the rural schools and teachers awaits appointment of examiners by Dr. Harry W. West, the new state Secretary of Health.

The 1945 Legislature, expanding the school health examinations, provided that the examining physicians and dentists in fourth class districts be appointed by the health secretary. The office was vacant for several weeks after the death of Dr. A. H. Stewart, until West, released from the army, was sworn in last Tuesday as Stewart's successor.

John W. German, Jr., chief of the division of school medical inspection, said "the program will be put into effect in those districts where the medical, dental and nursing service is available and proper place is provided for conducting the examinations."

FIRST TEST ON POSTWAR WAGES

Pittsburgh, Sept. 12 (AP)—The CIO-United Steelworkers' demand for a $2 daily pay boost, scheduled to come before a union-management wage conference Sept. 25, will provide the first nationwide test of postwar wage trends.

Phillip Murray, president of USWA and CIO, asserted 800,000 steelworkers "have been faced with a steadily rising cost of living which seriously undermined their living standards."

He quoted CIO estimates that living costs had risen 48 per cent since Jan. 1, 1941. He said labor had, in the same period, been held to a 15 per cent wage increase by the "little steel formula." This "yardstick" of wages has been "eliminated" by the end of the war, Murray declared.

While the war was in progress, said the soft-spoken Murray, overtime enabled workers to meet increased living costs but now "living standards have been drastically cut." Murray observed that the USWA action, asking more pay, was the first definite nationwide move "to pave the way for opening contracts and obtaining wage increases."

'WHITE COLLAR' STRIKE FLARES

Pittsburgh, Sept. 12 (AP)—Moves to end the strike of 12,000 "white collar" workers of Westinghouse Electric Corp. which flared up anew yesterday after it had apparently ended, shifted today to Washington.

Seventeen officers of the Federation of Westinghouse, Independent Socialist Union, which called the original strike Monday, were summoned to the capital to discuss the situation with members of the National War Labor Board.

WLB officials emphasized the conference was called to get resumption of work and to explain to the union officers how the WLB works, but not to go into the merits of the dispute.

Though only 12,000 "white collar" workers were involved in the walkout, called to enforce the union's demand for a bonus or incentive pay system such as production employees work under, the strike threatened to make idle a total of 80,000 Westinghouse workers in six states.

The strike was called off Monday night by Federation President Leo F. Hollens who said he had received a promise from the WLB that prompt consideration would be given to the union's case.

Yesterday he announced the strike was on again and asserted "the salaried employees x x x will remain on strike until the WLB can convince us that they are acting in good faith and that they will give a decision before 10 days have expired."

OFFER CREDITS FOR WAR WORK

Philadelphia, Sept. 12 (AP)—Philadelphia school children who left class rooms to take war jobs will receive scholastic credits for the work they have been doing, if they return to their books.

Dr. C. Leslie Cushman, associate principal of public schools, announced the policy yesterday at a meeting of 175 principals and supervisors who met to encourage former pupils back to schools.

Amount of credit will upon an individual basis Dr. Cushman said, determined by the type of work the boy or girl has been doing and the course to which they plan to return.

He estimated that of the city's 20,000 16-year-old group alone, about 10,000 are working—virtually all without benefit of high school or vocational school diplomas.

He disclosed that requirements will be made more flexible and that vocational courses will stress personality habits as well as skills.

"In normal times more people lost jobs because of inability to get along with other people, or bad personality habits, than because of lack of skill," Dr. Cushman said. "These factors were not so important during the war years but they will assume importance again."

Putting Coldframes To Work

Progressive vegetable gardeners consider it unwise and impractical to postpone active planting work in the spring until outdoor soil weather conditions are favorable.

But rather, they start numerous kinds of plants in greenhouses, hotbeds and coldframes, thereby actually lengthening the normal growing season. In fact, the regular outdoor season is not long enough for profitable gardening operations; it must be started earlier than conditions permit. And the same sound truth applies to the late summer and fall end of growing activities—the season must be extended.

But the September task is not nearly so difficult as the late February and March challenge. However, there is a general tendency for vegetable growers to "pull down the curtain" on active growing plans when the medium late crops are harvested this month. Yet there are many weeks of ideal gardening weather ahead. And even an extra month of productivity in late September and throughout October may prove as desirable as a similar period in mid-summer. Coldframes offer gardeners the most practicable means of continuing fall growing work. They are the simplest means of extending Nature's limitations.

For example, leaf lettuce may be grown in coldframes until freezing temperatures arrive in early winter, and even then beds may be coaxed along for several additional weeks. It is advisable to sow a bed every three or four weeks until early November. Sash need not be employed except to shut out excessive fall rain and to protect the crop from low temperatures.

Handling Green Tomatoes

Tomatoes green on the vines when frosts come may be saved and ripened slowly as needed by pulling up the laden vines and hanging them in medium cool room. Many growers prefer to pick the green tomatoes and place them on a wooden platform in open sunshine to force ripening. Green peppers may likewise be salvaged from early frosts by storage in a coldframe.

Small crops of late cabbage and celery may be moved to a roomy coldframe by pulling the plants up by their roots and setting them close together, with soil firmed around the roots as though they were being transplanted. Celery should not, however, be stored in the same bed with cabbage, as the stalks absorb cabbage odors. In both cases the sash should be shaded and ventilation employed to prevent excessive moisture.

Gardeners may profitably experiment by utilizing coldframes for growing extra late crops of radishes.

carrots, salsify, beets, and even such tender crops as snap beans and peas. If late plantings are made in the spring until outdoor soil weather conditions are favorable. But rather, they start numerous kinds of plants in greenhouses, hotbeds and coldframes, thereby actually lengthening the normal growing season. In fact, the regular outdoor season is not long enough for profitable gardening operations; it must be started earlier than conditions permit. Just Folks

THE LIKELY BOY

The eager boy, the willing boy where'er he may appear! The older men are making plans to further his career. There's much to learn and much to do, the men of science say, And many a triumph's waiting for the youngsters of today.

"Research, research" is now the cry that goes the world around. The better way, for countless tasks, by searching can be found. And eager boys, and boys alert who question how and why Will notice be among the throng and given a chance to try.

'Twas always so and will be so unto the end of time. The older men will welcome lads who show the wish to climb. Today they're setting funds aside to search for methods new And search the crowds for likely boys tomorrow's work to do.

Today's Talk

TO EDUCATE

The key to all happiness and peace in this world is education. The word itself is revealing. It is made up of two Latin parts, which mean to lead out of. So that to educate a person is to lead him out of ignorance. The main reason why so many people mess up things is that they have never been educated at all, or along the wrong lines.

The dominant reason for Russia's rapid rise to power and influence in the world is contained in the statement that she has educated her people. Education is knitting the nation into a great union. Her peasants are learning, as never before, what love of country means, when you understand.

There can never be too many schools, where the minds of men and women get exercise, learn the power of control, and are stimulated to take an interest in everything vital in life. One great fault in our educational systems, as a rule, is that they are not practical enough. They do not fit the student to enter directly into work that shall mean his immediate happiness. That, however, is being corrected. The war has done much to bring it about, and I look for many a radical change in school and college, that is, a change in methods of teaching.

One thing should be corrected, and that is the salaries paid to efficient teachers. They have always been too low. It sounds rather strange—billions to defeat an enemy outside our borders, but an amount, puny in comparison, to put ideas, hopes and ambitions, into the heads of the young, thorough highly paid educational staffs of teachers, thus preserving liberty and democracy at home, and enhancing character and intelligence, as a nation's greatest asset.

I have remarked in this brief space before that one of the greatest of all freedoms should be the freedom from ignorance. There is no greater enemy of the individual in this world than ignorance. Start anyone aright upon his life journey, and the difficulties along the way will be met and mastered!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Wealth Is Enjoyment."

SPECULATE ON WHAT IS AHEAD FOR PRESIDENT

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—The prophets are at it again. Now they're predicting President Truman's political future.

It goes something like this: 1. Mr. Truman's chances for reelection in 1948 depend upon what happens to the 21-point program he gave Congress last week.

2. Upon passage of that program depend the Democrats' chances for winning the 1946 and 1948 congressional elections.

That sounds odd, for these reasons:

Long-Range Plans

1. It's too soon to be positive about the effect of the success—or failure—of the Truman program.

2. Too many things can happen between now and election time to change the voters' thinking, whether the program goes through in full or not.

3. Mr. Truman's popularity is still riding high. This alone, if he retains it, will be a big factor in the future of himself and his party.

His program cuts two ways. Some of it is to solve immediate problems. Some is long-range, like full employment, housing, public works.

Time Element

Perhaps failure of Congress to put through the program will affect this country critically. But when? Soon enough for it to affect the voters' thinking in the 1946 or 1948 elections?

The key to our prosperity is full employment, or rather a lack of wide unemployment.

Unemployment is growing now. It will continue, for a while at least. Then, economists inside and outside government think, employment should grow as industry gets going.

The point is: How long will fairly full employment last?

PROBE CHARGE OF BRIBERY

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—For the first time in the new Madison Square Garden's 20-year history, the state Athletic commission Tuesday was investigating the outcome of a fight—a fight in which the loser said he was offered as much as $20,000 to throw the bout.

What's more, Freddie Fiducia asserted, the "proposition" he received from a Jerseyman he described as a gambler with a flistic connection also had included a ten per cent "cut" of the earnings of his conqueror of Monday, young unbeaten Freddie Schott. The undefeated Paterson, N. J., youngster flattened the veteran of 11 years of ring wars in nine rounds, after Fiducia had been on the floor seven times.

Fiducia's manager, Willie Gilzenberg, known to the trade as "The Beard," revealed that as early as last Friday he had gone to the commission with details of the "proposition," which Fiducia declared he did not accept.

With the fight over, commission Secretary John Christensen announced the investigation, holding up the purses of both fighters.

"I was satisfied with Schott's performance, but not with Fiducia's," Chief Deputy Commissioner James Bruno declared.

INDUSTRY IN PA. IS WEATHERING RECONVERSION

Harrisburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania industry is weathering the shocks of reconversion rapidly and unemployment resulting from the war's end is much less than anticipated.

"We have received very optimistic reports," Commerce Secretary Floyd Chalfant said. "In fact we have so little to reconvert in Pennsylvania that many industries were able to proceed with peacetime operations immediately after war-time restrictions were lifted."

Less than 335,000 compensable claims for unemployment compensation have been filed since Japan's surrender, the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation reported, adding this number is "very much lower" than was expected.

Many Find Jobs

A board spokesman explained that the claims represented less than half of the 90,000 applications for compensation which had been filed immediately after V-J Day and indicated that most of the others had since found other employment.

The department, meantime, listed these industrial developments:

Phileo corporation, Philadelphia, has broken ground for a new plant to cost upward of $1,000,000 and resumed assembly line production of electrical refrigerators.

Westinghouse Electric corporation is completing plant alterations at its Sunbury plant to expand production of radio receivers.

Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation has approved $5,000,000 research and production expansion program, including erection of research laboratory and pilot plant at Breckenridge, and a cold rolling mill at West Leechburg.

Elliott company has started construction of new test laboratory costing $750,000 at Jeanette.

Container company will build a $125,000 addition to its Reading plant.

Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., has announced plans for a large addition to its plant at Warren.

Bloomsburg Mills, incorporated, has started $75,000 expansion program at Bloomsburg.

Simplex Paper Box company, Lancaster, has broken ground for addition to its plant.

State Gets $40,563 To Develop Wildlife

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Apportionment of $880,000 among 47 states for restoration and development of wildlife resources for the 12 months ending next June 30 was announced Tuesday by Secretary of Interior Ickes.

The federal funds are allotted on the basis of area and the number of hunting licenses sold by the states. The money comes from the 11 per cent tax on sporting arms and ammunition imposed under the Pittman-Robertson Act. States and territories participating in the program are required to contribute 25 per cent of the cost of wildlife development work.

Allotments, by states, include: New Jersey, $8,075.15; New York, $41,621.30; Pennsylvania, $40,563.78.

quest, however, her name will be kept confidential.

"What we're asking housewives to do is to give us a personal report on price compliance in the stores where they do their food shopping," Mr. Young explained. "This will supply us with the facts we need to start investigations of some stores. In addition, it will provide us with a city-wide spot check of food prices."

To Check Black Market

"This board is confident that local retailers will back the shoppers' campaign. The drive should help to get rid of an unfair competitive situation created by a small group of retailers who draw trade—and merchandise—from conscientious sellers by buying and selling meat and other food at black market prices."

"We intend to correct cases of illegal pricing found during the drive as strictly and impartially as possible. If necessary, some cases may be referred to enforcement personnel at the OPA district office in Harrisburg."

"OPA's position is perfectly simple. We know that the black market thrives on above-ceiling prices. If those unlawful profits are removed, the black market will die very quickly. Then more foods will return to legal channels of trade where they can be distributed fairly to retailers and consumers."

Congressman Has

His Clothes Stolen

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.) returned from two months in Europe looking for all the world like he'd gained weight.

But it wasn't he, he explained, it was the suit.

Shortly after he arrived in Europe all his suits were stolen, he related, and Rep. Chief (D-Ky), another committee member, loaned him a suit so he wouldn't be grounded.

The suit was a little tight, which gave him that well-fed appearance. "But I've worn it every day for the last two months," he said.

Fulton and Chief were members of a joint congressional committee which investigated the European theater of operations.

EX - U. S. JUDGE AND THREE SONS ARE INDICTED

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Former U. S. Judge Albert W. Johnson has declined comment after his indictment by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice and defraud the government.

The indictment was handed up yesterday to Judge William H. Smith, of Newark, specially presiding during the grand jury investigation.

Nine others are also named in the indictment, including three sons of the 72-year-old Johnson, who last July 3 resigned his post during hearings being held by a Congressional sub-committee in Washington.

In addition to the former jurist, those indicted are:

Donald M. Johnson, of Middleburg, Snyder county district attorney; Albert W. Johnson, Jr., of Williamsport, former assistant district attorney of Luzerne county and now a captain in the U. S. Army; Miller A. Johnson, of Lewisburg, an attorney, all sons of Johnson.

Others Indicted
John Memoio, Scranton attorney, convicted earlier this year on an income tax evasion charge; David Schwartz, Scranton attorney; Jacob Greenes, Scranton beer salesman; Hoyt A. Moore, New York attorney; Joseph J. Jennings, of Moosic, and Charles Korman, also known as Charles Coleman, of New York.

The period of alleged conspiracy was fixed in the 29-page indictment from "on or about February 1, 1934, up to and including December 31, 1944." The indictment charged that the government was deprived of its right to the faithful judgment and determination of Johnson.

The former judge, from his home in Lewisburg, said he had no comment.

Federal Judge Albert W. Watson said at Harrisburg he does not want to handle the case when it comes up in October.

Among other things, the indictment charged that:

Waived Pension
Johnson "corruptly and without regard to the merit thereof" handed down decisions in many cases favoring litigants.

Greenes was the principal figure in "negotiations for such favorable decisions" and that Memoio figured in some of the transactions.

Sums of money, gifts, loans and purported loans were paid to Johnson or his three sons "directly or indirectly."

Several of the defendants, holding court appointments in bankruptcy and receivership matters, engaged in illegal splitting of fees.

Johnson waived his right to a $10,000 annual pension after he resigned his post. Hearings, conducted by a Congressional sub-committee headed by Rep. Kefauver, (D-Tenn.), were halted but no report has been made of the committee's findings.

Manila, (AP)—An American prisoner-of-war, en route home from a prison camp in Japan, arrived here today and dispatched this message to his family:

"No fleas, no lice, no rice, home soon."

The Curious Clue

BY RUFUS HEED

Chapter 6

After the General had finished his Miami call, he and Seth went into Luke Hale's office. Wallis Warner and Suzy were there, sitting off in a corner, not talking. Luke Hale left his desk and walked across the room toward Seth.

"I understand you have had valuable papers stolen so that this crime involves theft as well as murder."

Seth nodded. "I have telephoned our police department. He'll be right over."

"Venenidodo Cobo is the Department. The General volunteered, dryly. He has two assistants—Jesus Esquinado, captain of the day police, who's the Chief's better half, and Faustos Gomez, the night man—that's headquarters' lineup."

"Who's your coroner?" Seth asked. "We don't have a coroner. Usually no one ever dies in Key West from anything but old age, but of course," Hale added quickly, "a coroner will be appointed. The County Attorney does that."

"I think we better get Delgado and Potter in here before the Chief comes," the General said abruptly. "Everyone connected in any way with Dolores must be here to tell what he or she knows about what happened tonight. By the way, where's that doctor?"

"Right here, General," Dr. Blair called out from the doorway. "I thought the medical examiner might have arrived."

"That's Waldo. No, he won't be in town until tomorrow night. He's off on a fishing trip." Again it was the General who explained. "So you might give your report to the police, if you don't mind. Doctor. We're rather informal down here. I suppose you can tell us the time of death?"

"Yes, sir. I can. The girl was killed an hour ago. The body is still warm." Seth looked at his watch. It was just eleven o'clock.

"My wife asked me the time as the bride party left the runway. That was 9:45. I think she was strangled a few minutes before ten o'clock, but ten will be accurate enough for official purposes."

The door of the office opened, and three men came in. Ramon Delgado and two men Luke Hale immediately introduced as Chief of Police Bienvenido Cobo and Jesus Esquinado.

Luke Hale handed a paper to Cobo.

"Here, Chief, are a few facts about the murder which I've written down for you—to save you time." The manager waved his hand toward the people in the office. "These people were with Dolores at different times this evening. You'll probably want to interview them."

"Muchas gracias." The little man answered solemnly.

"Ya caigo! Now I ask questions." Cobo walked over and planted himself in front of the General.

"Where were you at 15 minutes to ten, and at ten o'clock this evening?" he demanded.

"I was at the bar, talking to the bartender. Easy to verify."

"And you, Mrs. Warner?"

"Walking on the beach, alone."

"Anyone see you?"

"Not that I know of."

"Now you, Mr. Peabody?"

"Walking up and down the lobby of the hotel."

"Anyone see you?"

"No. Not until ten o'clock, when I met Miss Van Tyne."

Potter had come into the office just as Cobo started his questioning. He turned to him now. "You were walking at ten o'clock, too?" There was a thin edge of annoyance in the Chief's voice.

Potter grinned. "Yes. How did you know? Peabody can vouch for that. He saw me." Seth stared at him a moment. He did not know Potter had seen him, but that was after, not before ten.

"Walk, walk, walk. Everybody walk. You walk too, Ramon?" "Not me." The dancer answered quickly. "At 15 minutes before ten I was in the dressing room with the boys, getting ready for our dance. We met Miss Van Tyne at ten, and we went on immediately. Here, don't take my word for it. Get Juan Romanera. He was in the dressing room from nine-thirty on."

"Get clock to be sure," Cobo instructed Jesus.

The clock checked to the second with the electric clock in the office. As time passed, it became evident that the stolen dossier might be a definite motive for the murder. Suzy, the last to be questioned, stated this fact quite frankly.

"I met Dolores at the foot of the stairs leading to my room," she said. "She had just left the runway and was using my bedroom as a dressing room. After I left her, she went into the bedroom, evidently surprised someone who was there getting the dossier out of my trunk, and was killed because she recognized this person."

"Did you go upstairs with her?" "Yes, but not into the bedroom."

"What time was that?" "I can't tell you exactly, but it must have been about a quarter to ten."

"Where were you before that—what were you doing?" "I refuse to answer. The questions about time between 15 minutes of ten and ten o'clock. Suzy's quiet statement brought sudden silence into the office."

"Say more," Cobo snapped back. Seth felt a growing tension in the room.

"I went upstairs with Dolores. We talked a few minutes. I did not go into the bedroom. At five minutes to ten I was in the lobby, talking to Mr. Peabody."

A few minutes after Suzy finished, Cobo said everyone could go.

17th Victory

Trout's sparkling two-hit performance in Boston was his 17th success of the season. The triumph was made easier by Doc Cramer's three-run homer in the seventh inning. It was Detroit's eighth victory in 11 eastern starts with four in Philadelphia and five in Washington still to be played.

The Senators dropped a discouraging 2-1 to Chicago after taking a 1-0 lead into the ninth inning. The White Sox beat Johnny Niggeling with two runs in the ninth on only one single.

New York and Cleveland were washed out of their final meeting of the campaign and the other clubs were not scheduled. Only news from that quarter was Luke Sewell's re-entention as Browns manager for 1946-47.

Cards Win In 9th

St. Louis had to come from 'way back, trailing once by four runs, to finally catch and pass New York in the last of the ninth, 6-5, on Whitey Kurowski's two-run single with the sacks loaded. Billy Southworth tossed five pitchers into the fray and Bill Crouch, recently acquired from Rochester, got the credit for his first win of the year.

Pittsburgh continued its September drive, tightening its hold on fourth place, by dumping the Phillies twice, 5-4 in 10 innings and 5-1 on a five-run spurt in the eighth frame.

After Al Libke's 10th inning single gave Cincinnati a 5-4 shade over Brooklyn in the opener, the Dodgers snapped back with a 15-hit attack for an 11-6 victory to square the season series at 11 decisions apiece.

DETROIT PICKS UP FULL GAME ON SENATORS

By JACK HAND (AP Sports Writer)

Dizzy Trout's "five-win plan," designed to assure Detroit of the pennant during its final eastern jaunt, is 80 per cent complete today.

Before the talented righthander took the mound against New York, September 4 for the opener of the Tigers' 20-game tour, he revealed a self-made schedule calling for five victories along the Atlantic seaboard.

After blanking the Yankees 10-0, he beat them with relief help, 11-4, trimmed Boston in the fireman role, 6-3, and shut out the Red Sox yesterday, 5-0. Four decisions in eight days, a torrid pace even for a Trout.

Max Schmeling Is Acquitted By Court

Hamburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion Monday was acquitted by an Allied Military Government court of a charge that he made a false statement to a member of the Allied forces contrary to military government regulations.

German civilians applauded enthusiastically when the president of the court, Lt. Col. Donald Kaberry, read out the acquittal.

The action followed a four-hour re-examination of six witnesses including Vivian Batchelor, British war correspondent, whose interview with the former champion on his plan to re-educate German youth by publishing books brought forth the charge against Schmeling.

Two British officers and the German interpreter who accompanied Miss Batchelor to Schmeling's home for the interview, as well as two members of the Hammerich and Lesser publishing firm also were re-examined.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP) — Ed Wright, the rookie who shut out the Cubs for Boston the other day, was discovered by Red Smith, the Cub coach, who got $1500 for his find. Wright may have pitched Red right out of a cut in the world series dough.

Jimmy Johnston is broadcasting the news that he now is manager of Al Hossman, who was heavyweight champion of the Pacific area before his discharge from the army. Hossman is six feet five and weight 210, which makes him about big enough to do everything Jimmy claims he can.

The Army-Notre Dame basketball game, which would pack any indoor arena the way their football game does the Yankee stadium, will be played in the West Point field house with no charge for admission.

Boston's Art Ross thinks newspapermen should be admitted to National Hockey league meetings because "we have nothing to hide."

LET WHO DO IT?

The New York University football manager is George Kleinknecht; his assistant is George Baer; the equipment manager is George Olsen and the publicity director is George Shiebler.

When there's a tough job, who do you suppose does it? Why, Coach Jack Weinheimer, of course.

What's this story that the All-American Football Conference is trying to peddle a quarter interest in its "strongest" franchise—Los Angeles—for $50,000? Ray Dumm's National baseball congress has set a $10,000 "ceiling" on the prize money to be awarded the winning team in future sandlot tournaments at Wichita. This year's championship averaged better than $5,000 a night at the gate for two weeks.

THIS WAY OUT

Manager Chick Weegels tells about this phone conversation with Lightweight Beau Jack, who is due out of the army any day: "Mistah Weegels, my papers is gone through; everything's gone through, but I ain't gone through I want to go through the gate."

Rocks and Spartans Lead In Playoffs

(By The Associated Press)

The Wilmington Blue Rocks and the Trenton Spartans are holding one-game leads in the Interstate league's preliminary series for the governor's cup playoffs.

The Rocks, who finished the league race in second place, walloped the Allentown Cardinals 5-0 at Wilmington. At Lancaster, the "Spartans" nosed out the league champions, the Lancaster Red Roses, 7-6 in 11 innings.

Bob Chakales, 17-year-old hurler from Richmond, Va., pitched fourth ball for Wilmington.

The Richmond pitcher fanned 12 Allentown men. George Koby, pitching for the Red Birds, struck out 11.

A deep fly to center by relief pitcher John Colontinos, which scored Rolfe Johnson from second base, gave Trenton the victory over Lancaster.

Today's games: Trenton at Lancaster and Allentown at Wilmington.

Son Excited By Dad's Liberation

Butler, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Young "Pat" Devereux didn't go to school yesterday. He was too excited.

The 11-year-old son of Lt. Col. James P. Devereux, heroic Marine commander on Wake Island, heard his father was alive and in charge of a Japanese prison camp and he was busy telling his friends all about it.

"There was no use sending him to school with the possibility of his father arriving so soon" explained Mrs. John Welch, the grandmother with whom he has lived since his mother died in 1942. He would not have been able to apply himself.

The tow-headed youngster last saw his father in September, 1941, when he and his mother left Hawaii for the states, "Pat" intends to be in Washington when his father arrives there.

LEHIGH GRID OUTLOOK GOOD

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—It may be too early to climb out on the prediction tree but don't sell the Lehigh University football team short.

Coach Leo Prendergast admits he's a bit limited with material—a squad of only 25 men reported for pre-season practice—but he's pleased with prospects.

The 1945 Lehigh eleven, he says, can't do worse than last year's team which failed to win a game in six starts. Prendergast believes the Engineers, aided by six returning letter-winners, will play a better brand of ball when Lehigh opens the season against Muhlenberg October 20.

The offense will be built around Al Granese, hard-running halfback, Prendergast said. A discharged serviceman, Granese is speedy and snifty, can kick and pass, and is a smart field general.

The Brown and White eleven, however, is skimpy on reserves. Ten freshmen, 12 sophomores and three seniors comprise the current personnel and 13 of the gridgers are only 17 years old. Four are discharged servicemen.

Lettermen Boost UCLA Prospects

Los Angeles, Sept. 12 (AP) — They're not saying much out at the picturesque Westwood campus of UCLA, but an aura of quiet confidence surrounds the new Bruin grid regime headed by Bert La Brucherie.

Twenty lettermen, including three veterans of the 1942 Bruin squad which played in the Rose Bowl, are back, the team looks solid, except for one tackle spot and a lack of big reserves.

La Brucherie, up from Los Angeles high school to replace Babe Herrell, will rely on speed and a short passing game from the T-formation.

At the vital quarterback post will be wiry Ernie Case, 170, 1941 letter winner returned from the air forces. Case is a sharpshooting Southpaw, passer, clever ball-handler, fair punter.

COLLAPSES ON WITNESS STAND

Warren, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Collapse of frail, 23-year-old Adaline McKinney, while testifying at her trial on a charge of killing her husband, Wendell, resulted in spectators being barred from the courtroom during cross examination today.

Mrs. McKinney, mother of two children, went yesterday as she told of alleged attacks her husband had made upon her. When she came to the point where the state charges she shot her husband with a rifle while he was taking a bath, she suddenly screamed:

"I can't do it! I can't do it!"

Then, while the electrified, crowded courtroom watched open-mouthed, she slid limply from her chair to the floor. Attaches hastily carried her to the judge's chambers, where she was revived.

Judge Allison D. Wade cleared the courtroom. It was a half hour before Mrs. McKinney was able to continue her testimony.

Mrs. McKinney declared her husband mistreated her in an endeavor to force her to leave home so he could marry another girl.

Harrisburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—Kenny Ebert, ran himself right into the scholastic spotlight when Lancaster Catholic opened the 1945 season.

The fleet left halfback of the Crusaders grabbed a kickoff on his own 20 yard marker and dashed 80 yards for a touchdown. Norristown Catholic won the game 18-12.

Page Don Hutson... when Bedrod rolled up a 55-0 score on Boswell in the season's opener, Jack Faust, the Bison end, caught five straight touchdown passes. They were all thrown by Bruce Fisher, Jr., whose dad is the Bedford coach. Young Fisher can run as well as pass. He took the ball on the first play of the game and went 73 yards for a touchdown... watch that pair.

Coach Dick Murphy of Ashley high decided that his boys were not putting enough of the old zip into practice drills. He gave them a pep talk. Signals were called and the play started. It went right over Coach Murphy. Now he hobbles around with the aid of a cane.

Coach Eddie (Pop) Abramowski of Erie Technical high was smiling after his team romped to a 52-0 win over Mercer. But he had another reason for the smile. Pop was busy receiving congratulations on a newly born daughter.

Two Pennsylvania school boys are battling for the fullback spot at Duke university. One is Bert Sutton, one of the best at Brownsville high has turned out in many a day. The other is Howard Christner, of Somerset high. Head Coach Eddie Cameron says they are two of the finest freshman punters and passers he has seen in a long time.

LeRoy Pletz, who starred for John Harris high before making the national headlines at the University of Pennsylvania is out of the air corps. He will stay out of school until February to rest his nerves. Then he has two more years with the Red and Blue... which should cheer up George Munger.

Don Schneider, one of the best gridgers that ever donned the molokins at Lancaster high is back from the wars. He is at Penn. with high hopes of being a regular when the Quakers kick off with Brown on September 29.

The Elston draft board has ordered Edward Petchel to report on September 17. If he goes into service Coach Bob Higgins at Penn State will be a sorry man.

The Albany Senators and the Wilkes-Barre Barons each hold a 1-0 advantage over their respective foes—Utica and Hartford—as the Eastern league four out of seven semi-final playoffs move into their second days.

The Senators and the Barons rolled to 6-0, 3-0 whitewashes of their opponents last night as the play for the governor's cup got underway. The tight pitching of the Senator's Fred Clemence and Wilkes-Barre's Ralph McCabe was responsible.

The teams will play at Utica and Wilkes-Barre at 8 o'clock tonight. Chuck Hawley, Senator's 19-game winner, and Charlie Rippe will toe the mound at Utica. The Hartford and Wilkes-Barre mound choices were not announced.
